Around Orlando

... The Goldman touch. Steve Goldman, founder of Maitland-based Distributed Processing Technology and an internationally recognized musical composer, has completed a new piece, "American Sketches," that will be featured in two upcoming Orlando Philharmonic concerts.

The outdoor concerts are scheduled for Oct. 4 at Barnett Park and Nov. 8 at Blanchard Park.

Goldman's work was played by philharmonic orchestras in two Hungarian cities this year. Competing against entries from 23 countries, Goldman also was recognized this year as the 1997 Composers Guild Composition Award winner for his "Quicksilver's Salvatude."
